EDITORIAL COMMENTS

There was only one trial made of the Bryan issue this fall, and that was in Nebraska. It is needless to say that it failed.

The Albion Republican remarked that Governor Yates has faithfully remembered his first duty to the public, and that he proposes to secondly stand by his friends. This is proper.

The Illinois State Journal says: "A republican administration should be judged by what it actually does, not what its enemies assert that it has one or intends to do."

Editor William Jennings Bryan says that "the Commoner fills a long felt want." We don't doubt it, but Mr. Bryan forgets that he is the only one who felt it—Cambridge Chronicle.

The free trader is not dead, but his theories ought to be killed beyond the possibility of resurrection. The lives of the people are the greater estimation of business in this country. The leader they are the greater prosperity.

William J. Bryan finds himself in "the enemy's country" now, even while he remains in Nebraska. But that is not all. There are very few states in which the same condition does not prevail—Springfield Journal.

If, as the free traders contend, a favorable balance of trade is a delusion, and if a country is better off for buying more than it sells, why isn't Europe glad rather than sorry to see American goods flowing into her markets?

The press of Illinois is falling into line for the cause of honest labor, as against the present injurious contract prison system. And Governor Yates' action in favor of honest labor speaks louder than the pretensions of the average politician.

There are some papers which take a kind of headish delight in attacking in a most unwarranted and savage manner any person who uses his prerogatives as a public official. It is in this class of papers, says the Chester Tribune, which are now heaping calumny and slander upon Governor Yates.

The Chicago Tribune is still showing its antipathy towards Governor Yates and his official acts. The governor does not seem to care very much what the Tribune has to say about him, but keeps on saying wood. He would be a truly wonderful man who could be elected governor and run an administration satisfactory to the papers of Chicago.

Commenting upon the propensity for charging public officers by disgruntled politicians and disgruntled newspapers, the Clinton Public very truthfully remarks: "Of late years it has become the habit of the people to accept as truth the criticisms of men who are opposed to the powers that be." It admonishes the people to be loyal to your officers until they prove to you that they are derelict in their duty.

This from the Fulton Journal, the Democratic organ of Whiteside county, is very suggestive of the lack of harmony among the Democrats: Do the Democrats want Bryan for candidate for president in 1904? Now! Do they want Cleveland? Now! Do they want Dave Hill? Now! Do they want Gorman? Now! Do they want Watterson? Now! Do they want Carter Harrison? Now! What then do the Democrats want? Don't now!

Mr. Bryan claims that the circulation of the Commoner is increasing. That is not strange. There are a great many in this country who still believe that Mr. Bryan is a second Thomas Jefferson. In addition to that, he has some good things in his paper. These were in the advice he gave subscribers not to bet on the good many of them probably following this Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This important trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Beholden to the Men.

Most Devices for Women's Wear Are the Inventions of the Other Sex. It is a source of mortification to many of the fair ones that a large majority of the recent inventions designed to increase the comfort or improve the gracefulness of women's attire are the products of masculine genius. Devices for hitching the skirt to the shirtwaist, for dressing the shirtwaist neck, for finishing the shirtwaist at the waist line, for fastening the shirtwaist cuffs, for making the shirtwaist look long-waisted or short-waisted or round-waisted—how busy the mind of man must be all winter long in order to bring each new thing upon a defenseless feminine public all these kind-kinded schemes for shirtwaist reformation! But for all his inventiveness, what woman pays the least attention to it? Shirtwaists may come and shirtwaists may go, but not one woman in a thousand adorns herself or makes use of the many little schemes man so thoughtfully devises in their and her behalf. Let the men go on inventing if they choose. It keeps their minds from more frivolous things—for who can deny that the shirtwaist is a serious subject indeed? Likewise, it gives variety to the crop of street car advertisements. Does the fact that woman doesn't feel called upon to join the noble army of inventors for the improvement of shirtwaists mean that she is lacking in inventive ability or that she is quite satisfied with her shirtwaists as they are?—Chicago Chronicle.

President Roosevelt will not be guided by southern prejudices. He is not seeking to placate the south by the appointment of southern Democrats to office. He still reserves the privilege to choose his own companions to fill the cabinet—Boston Globe.

The appointment of another republican Democrat to federal office in South Carolina is another reminder that the McKinley policy is still in force and effect. President Roosevelt thinks about these matters of President McKinley thought about them—Hartford Courant.

In nominating William Dudley Poole, of Indiana, to be a member of the board of civil service commissioners, President Roosevelt gives unmistakable evidence of his purpose to broaden the scope and heighten the influence of the civil service commission's work. The president of the United States were determined to be president of the whole country, for the whole country, without regard to partisan politics, sectional pride or mere prejudice. It has been our aim to pick a colored man to lunch with him, he would do just what President Roosevelt did in the case of Booker T. Washington—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mr. Roosevelt has met this pressure in the most sensible fashion. He declines absolutely to make any changes unless it can be shown that they are required by the necessities of the case. If changes are needed, he insists on being satisfied that men proposed to him for appointment are fit in character and ability to discharge the duties of the place. New York Times.

The president who is credited with the courage of his convictions, does not mind the thrash of abuse which has been heaped upon him by the southern demagogues, and will move forward in the face of his wrath. He will not be deterred by the ex-slave holders. There is little probability of the man who freed Cuban bullets at San Juan running up the white flag before the wind of the yellow-robes. It is not that kind of a man—Yates County Chronicle.

In no state in the union was the late President McKinley held in higher regard than he was in Illinois, and there is no occasion to advance any argument in favor of a fitting participation by the people of this state in the movement that has been inaugurated for the construction of a national monument in his honor at Canton, his home city. It may be safely assumed that the citizens of Illinois as a whole will contribute as liberally towards this enterprise as will those of any other state, and it is regretted that the people of this state are called attention to the fact that the funds required for the construction of the proposed monument have been asked for and that those who are desirous of contributing to the movement by forwarding their subscriptions promptly. There always is danger that matters of that kind, which can be postponed so easily, will be neglected entirely, but it is believed that those in charge of the movement can formulate their plans or inaugurate the construction of the memorial until they ascertain how much money will be needed at their disposal. A prompt response to the call that has been issued will be as striking a manifestation of popular admiration for the departed president as will be the ultimate erection of a costly monument.

Gov. Yates and the People. When Governor Yates first became a candidate for governor many people who would otherwise have been for him, shook their heads and said, "He is too young." But the young candidate was elected over the heads of wise old politicians because the people were for him and now the young governor is not forgetting his obligations to the people and is applying to them in his administration of state affairs. He remembers his duty to the whole people and is performing it fearlessly. The fact remains, however, that no governor ever wanted to be elected with the peculiar conditions confronting him in his own party as Governor Yates was compelled to meet. Many appointees of Governor Tanner had to be removed for several reasons, and it is believed that the following list of names had to be appeased—an all-impossible task, yet greatly to be regretted, but we can safely trust that the people will be satisfied in the mean time.

WOMEN AS DRUMMERS.
In Some Lines They Are Far Superior to Masculine Competitors.
A member of a firm of wholesale merchants in a southern city declares that women make better drummers than men in some respects. "The fact is," he says, "that when it comes to certain lines the women who have an aptitude can do much more than men. Time was, and it was only a few years ago, when it was generally believed that a woman could not sell anything on the road except books and certain articles of wearing apparel peculiar to her sex. The observations of the female drummer were for a long time confined to a very limited field. But in recent years she has branched out somewhat, and I simply state an open secret when I say she may be regarded as a success on the road. In some instances she has proven herself a more valuable member than men. Take certain lines, like tea, coffee, spices and things of that sort, and in a majority of instances she will place more goods than a man will in the same length of time. This is probably true of these articles because she can talk more intelligently about them. There is in every home, and in every business world, a woman who can sell more than a man." — Chicago Tribune.

OLD SKUNK CHURCH. BLACK HILLS MARSHFIELD.

SINGULAR TITLE OF A MASSACHUSETTS EDIFICE.
How Five Odoriferous Animals on One Sunday Morning Became Part of the Congregation—Flight of the People—Pastor Went Out Through a Window.
One of the oldest churches along the South shore is the First Baptist church of Marshfield, Mass. But a visitor to the ancient town never hears the edifice called by its proper title. Ask a local resident of that section why most any resident of that section is called "Old Skunk?" "Where are you going to church today?" and the reply will be, invariably, "Over to the 'Old Skunk.'" The "Old Skunk" meeting house, as it is locally known, has an interesting history. Nearly half a century ago, the story is told by the older residents, a family of five healthy skunks marched boldly into the church one spring morning and took complete possession. It was a bright, warm day; the congregation marched quietly out, the minister made his escape in a hurry through a convenient window, and the service was continued on the lawn, after but a slight delay. One of the animals was a handsome specimen. It was one of the largest ever seen in the town, and the family remained in its new home for several weeks, finding a convenient place for a nest under the pulpit. From this time on the church was called the "Old Skunk" meeting house. Marshfield people, by the way, still call their churches meeting houses after the olden-time style. The church was the first one of Baptist denomination to be established in this section. In 1734 six persons were baptized by the Rev. Elder Elisha Callendar of the First Baptist church of Boston and in 1748 several more were baptized. In 1773 the Rev. Isaac Backus of "Middleborough" as it was then called, performed some missionary labors in this vicinity, and concerning Marshfield, wrote in his diary: "Deacon Josiah Eames and his wife, Thomas Eames and his wife, David Thomas, Jr., and his wife, Thomas Joyce and his wife, and some others, seem not only to be convinced that the present parish worship (Congregational) is very corrupt, but that Baptist principles are right; were very thankful for my coming, and there is a hopeful prospect of an Hewitt-Simmons place, near the present church edifice. The movement was begun while the Rev. William Shaw of Bridgewater was pastor of the First Congregational church. The same year a meeting house was built and 10 years later, in 1837, the society was incorporated, the charter members being: Thomas Joyce, Lucy Joyce, Zenas Thomas, Abigail Thomas, Ichabod Sherman, Rebecca Chase, Abigail Sherman. Agreeable society being formed there." The Baptist Religious Society of Marshfield was formed in 1788, at the home of Jonathan Joyce, now the late home of Jonathan Joyce, Rachel Joyce, Joyce, Mary Curtis, Rachel Joyce, Prince Hatch, William Curtis, Lydia Ford, Zaccheus Lambert and Vashil Bryant. The edifice was enlarged in 1850, and a spire added, a bell being given by Henry B. Glover of Boston. The new structure was dedicated Jan. 1, 1851, the Rev. W. F. Sember of Abington preaching the dedication sermon. A dwelling house and 10 acres of land situated near the church were bought in 1882 for a parsonage. Branches of the church have been established in various parts of the county.

SCENIC TREASURES OPENED TO TOURISTS.

Some of Cliff-Dwellers as They Appear Today—Scenes of Former Days in the "Wild West"—Commemorations of Frontier Life.
A quarter of a century ago the Black Hills had an enviable reputation as one of nature's most prolific treasure houses and at the same time it had an unenviable reputation as a region of romance and adventure scarcely rivaled the west over. The foothills were the battleground of the Indians, the gulches furnished ambuscades for desperadoes, who were well-appointed custodians and conspiring agents of the strong box of the mail coach. The mining camps were frontier towns of the true dime novel pattern, and each one had its "Boots Hill" (the name given the cemetery whose every occupant was buried in his boots). In these towns homicide, as one army officer expressed it, was performed daily in the most genial, whole-souled way, the shooter and the shottee smiling pleasantly in each other's faces. Now everything is changed and no one signs for "the good days." The bad Indians have departed, their children are peaceful farmers, the soil and ward of the government. Desperadoes no longer haunt the community. The old days have grown decrepit in active service, been whisked off to some eastern town to figure in some stirring western life in the show tents of still wend their way over rough mountain roads. Seth Bullock, ex-sheriff of Deadwood, and other great to the "tenderfoot" from the east stories of frontier life that, like Hamlet's ghost story, can harrow up the soul and freeze the young blood. There is still a Deadwood coach, which runs between Deadwood and Spearhead, and it is a battle-scarred veteran, indeed. The original stage line from Deadwood to Cheyenne is a memory of the past. There still exist places with such names as Lame Johnny creek, Rawhide buttes, War Bonnet creek, Squaw gap, etc., made famous by such self-appointed undertakers as Par-jegged Bradley, Curley Grimes, who was shot at Hognuts ranch; Bill Price, Dunk Blackburn, etc. Ancient local history rings with the exploit of Calamity Jane, who, under the fire of an attack on the stage, seized the lines, whipped up the horses and brought the stage safely through to its destination. Today the Black Hills are still a great treasure house, in fact, the third greatest gold producing region on this continent, yielding $100,000,000 in gold alone in the past 25 years. With the advent of the railway, opening up the scenic treasures to tourists, and with the discovery of big health resorts and hot springs, the towns have sprung up and built into resorts. The early days of the Black Hills are still a memory of the past.

INCIDENTS DURING THE PAST WEEK

Crop Breaks the Record—Mackerel Farmer Has Three Wives Within Year—Dugout Man Murdered—A Young Man Kills His Wife's Father.

The Illinois Department of Agriculture has issued a report on the crop, yield and condition of the wheat and corn crops of the State. The report shows that the wheat crop of 1910 was the largest in the history of the State, and that the yield was 30.7 per cent above the average of the past five years. The corn crop was also a record, and the yield was 17.5 per cent above the average of the past five years.

Three Brides in One Year. James Alder, a young farmer living at Kankakee, who has been married three times in one year, made his third matrimonial venture a few weeks ago.

Three Trains in Collision. Fireman F. M. Riley of Duquaque was killed and Engineer William Norton of Duquaque sustained a broken leg in a collision on the Great Western road at Bolton. Three trains were in collision—a freight train, a light engine, and a wrecking engine in the middle track. The light engine, in the middle track, ran into the rear of the freight. The engineer reversed his engine and jumped. The wrecking engine ran back into the wrecking train, where the fireman was killed.

Will Not Wage Tax Fight. Officials of the Chicago Teachers' Federation have decided not to bring suit against local members of the State Board of Equalization for the recovery of taxes that were not levied on traction companies in 1909. The original intention of the federation was to sue under a provision of the revenue law which specifies that in case of loss from non-assessment the assessor shall be liable for double the amount of the sum lost through his negligence.

Still Seek Farmer's Slayers. The coroner's inquest held over Ewald Eichhorn, a German farmer who was found murdered in his home at Duquaque, will await more evidence. Eichhorn was found on his bed, gagged, a cloth tied over his eyes, his hands tied behind him, and his legs tied together. His skull was crushed in and his neck broken. A piece of firewood is supposed to have been the weapon used. A reward of $300 is offered for the arrest of the murderers.

Killed by His Son-in-Law. John Piller, 50 years old, was killed by Willie Ray, his son-in-law, at Decatur, in a dispute over business matters. The tragedy occurred at Piller's home, also miles in the country. Piller got a shotgun and started to kill Ray, but the latter was too quick for him, got a revolver and killed Piller. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Brief State Happenings. Over $3,000 was cleared at Urbana's Catholic fair. Capitalists will prospect for gas or oil at Cerro Gordo. Springfield's new Christian Church will be dedicated Jan. 9. The Illinois Press Association meets in Chicago Jan. 18 to 20. Osborn Woodmen have a new lodge and business building. Illinois has 250 coal miners' unions, with a membership of 30,000. Next year a new school house, with twelve rooms, will be built at Peoria. Charles Archer, while sleeping on the street car tracks in Rock Island, was killed by a motor car.

At a meeting of the Aurora Library Association the long disputed question of a site for the new Carnegie library was settled. It was voted to purchase St. John's Island, which is in the center of the business district, on a site to be donated by the St. John's Episcopal Church. William George, president of the Second National Bank announced that a friend will give $10,000 for a fountain in front of the building, or for any other purpose he might decide upon after consulting the board.

President Roosevelt's new team of horses were raised at Paris, sold to a Baltimore man then in St. Louis and finally came into the President's possession. Elsie Barker, a 16-year-old girl, arrested at Lincoln School, Evanston, for being the piano for children to march on while the building was on fire. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Old Salem Chautauque Association, George H. Turner of Mount Vernon was elected superintendent, vice of Mr. Archer, resigned.

WINTER FOR WHOM ROOSEVELT IS SITTING.

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts Father of Such a Bill.

The distinction of introducing in the Senate a bill for the introduction of the President falls upon Hon. G. F. Hoar of Massachusetts. The bill provides that any person who shall within the limits of the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, willfully kill or cause the death of the President of the United States, or any officer thereof, or who shall willfully kill or cause the death of a ruler or chief magistrate of any foreign country, shall be punished with death. That any person who shall within the limits of the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, make an attempt on the life of the President of the United States, or any officer thereof, or who shall make an attempt on the life of a ruler or chief magistrate of any foreign country, shall be punished with death. That any person who shall within the limits of the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, attempt to assassinate the President of the United States, or any officer thereof, or who shall attempt to assassinate a ruler or chief magistrate of any foreign country, shall be punished with death.

CHANGES FOR THE CABINET. Gov. Crane Stated to Succeed Gage—Long Also to Quit.

Rumors of cabinet changes, following the announcement that Secretary Gage will resign, have been flying thick and fast in Washington. Gov. Crane of Massachusetts is said to be slated for Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Mr. Gage. It is also reported that when the present Secretary of the Treasury steps out, Elia H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, and O. L. Spalding and H. A. Taylor, assistant Secretaries of the Treasury, go with him.

Wisconsin Man Chosen for Important Cabinet Position. Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith has resigned from President Roosevelt's cabinet and Henry C. Payne of Milwaukee, a member of the Republican national committee, has been appointed his successor. The resignation of Mr. Smith makes the first break in the McKinley cabinet as it was composed when Mr. Roosevelt took office. It is said that Mr. Smith contemplated retiring before the death of President McKinley in order that he might resume the editorial management of his paper, the Philadelphia Press, but retained the position to work out certain reforms in the second-class mail service. His resignation was due about the time of McKinley's death, but was then delayed at the urgent request of President McKinley.

EATING EUROPEAN POTATOES. Ireland, Scotland and Belgium Helping to Feed Uncle Sam.

For the first time in eight years this country has been obliged to go abroad to make the supply of potatoes in market adequate to the demand. Four-fifths of the potatoes that have reached New York in the past few weeks have come from abroad. Within a week nearly 1,200,000 bushels have been received in that port and all told over half a million bushels have reached there. The potatoes come from Scotland, Belgium and Ireland, where the crop has been good, while on our side of the ocean it has been the worst in a decade. The farmers who have a good supply have been holding back for better prices, putting the product in cellars and storehouses. Those who have sold recently have demanded as high as $3 per barrel, which has brought the price up to $4 and $5 at a time when potatoes are usually cheap.

PRICE FIXED FOR THE ISLES. Denmark Will Take $4,500,000—A Treaty Is Completed.

Secretary Hoar and the Danish minister at Washington, as plenipotentiaries for that purpose, have completed the treaty for the purchase by the United States of the Danish possessions in the West Indies. The draft of the treaty was signed at Washington, D. C., Dec. 11, 1909.

They Speak Spanish. Many American railroad men are interested in the federal law in Mexico, requiring all essential employees to be able to speak Spanish. American roads have a number of employees in the South American republic and many of them have a decidedly limited knowledge of the Spanish language. Several hard studies are scheduled to take place now and American railway men are making a "blitz" at the language.

M. CONSTANTINE MAKOVSKY. President Roosevelt has begun to sit for a portrait by M. Constantin Makovsky, the Russian artist. M. Makovsky is the court painter of St. Petersburg. He has painted the Czar and his father before him, and the grand dukes of the Imperial family. He arrived in the United States on the same steamer as Count Cassini. The reception given in his honor at the Russian embassy was the first large function of the season in Washington.

GOVERNOR CRANE STATED TO SUCCEED GAGE—LONG ALSO TO QUIT. Rumors of cabinet changes, following the announcement that Secretary Gage will resign, have been flying thick and fast in Washington. Gov. Crane of Massachusetts is said to be slated for Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Mr. Gage. It is also reported that when the present Secretary of the Treasury steps out, Elia H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, and O. L. Spalding and H. A. Taylor, assistant Secretaries of the Treasury, go with him.

WISCONSIN MAN CHOSEN FOR IMPORTANT CABINET POSITION. Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith has resigned from President Roosevelt's cabinet and Henry C. Payne of Milwaukee, a member of the Republican national committee, has been appointed his successor. The resignation of Mr. Smith makes the first break in the McKinley cabinet as it was composed when Mr. Roosevelt took office. It is said that Mr. Smith contemplated retiring before the death of President McKinley in order that he might resume the editorial management of his paper, the Philadelphia Press, but retained the position to work out certain reforms in the second-class mail service. His resignation was due about the time of McKinley's death, but was then delayed at the urgent request of President McKinley.

Several hard studies are scheduled to take place now and American railway men are making a "blitz" at the language.

TO PROTECT THE PRESIDENT

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts Father of Such a Bill.

The distinction of introducing in the Senate a bill for the introduction of the President falls upon Hon. G. F. Hoar of Massachusetts. The bill provides that any person who shall within the limits of the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, willfully kill or cause the death of the President of the United States, or any officer thereof, or who shall willfully kill or cause the death of a ruler or chief magistrate of any foreign country, shall be punished with death. That any person who shall within the limits of the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, make an attempt on the life of the President of the United States, or any officer thereof, or who shall make an attempt on the life of a ruler or chief magistrate of any foreign country, shall be punished with death. That any person who shall within the limits of the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, attempt to assassinate the President of the United States, or any officer thereof, or who shall attempt to assassinate a ruler or chief magistrate of any foreign country, shall be punished with death.

THE TREATY RATIFIED

Senate Approves Canal Pact by the Majority Vote of 72 to 6.

By a practically unanimous vote and without opposition of any strength the United States Senate has ratified the Hay-Panama treaty. The vote was 72 for ratification and 6 against, the majority being Bacon of Georgia, Blackburn of Kentucky, Clibborn of Colorado, Mallory of Florida, Teller of Colorado, and Tillman of South Carolina, all Democrats. Their opposition was based on the ground that the treaty does not say with sufficient distinctness that the United States shall have full control over the canal.

There are traits that fall into a trust in his caseler, for instance Buffalo News. One Ohio legislator has his head in the sand. He says there is too much legislation—Toledo News. Subject for Miss Siona's lecture, she starts out: "How I died, lived, and died again"—Buffalo Times. The arrangement of these Germans, actually presume to organize a trust themselves—Detroit Free Press. The fellow that first panned it goes up must come down, never had experience with the price of coal—Toledo News. It does seem that the Indiana vying rapidly enough without getting themselves interested in football—Toledo News. As usual, the principal business of a majority in the House or Representatives will be to appoint the jobs—Toledo News. In a few days they will be in charge of the admission of the St. Louis fair grounds. This is a huge endeavor to be previous St. Paul Dispatch. If President Roosevelt really wishes to make office seekers occasions of these of new submarine banks would be just the thing—Washington Times. These in charge are now inclined to believe that the ship subsidy play was dead when first set on Senator Hanna's doorstep—Grand Rapids Press. The time may even come when the courts will rule that legislative employees are not entitled to salaries that have not been earned—Detroit Free Press. If Mr. Campbell is looking for a national board to spend $10,000,000 for him Congress will be glad to show how easily it can be done—Grand Rapids Press. A baseball catcher might be recommended to serve as a way of mitigating King Alexander's face-slapping habit—Cleveland Plain Dealer. The beekeepers in Philadelphia, who pay from 20 to 25 cents per pound for their bees, are helping to make millions of dollars out of the packers in western cities—Philadelphia Record. According to the Boston Commercial Bulletin, a promoter is one of those fellows who can sell you a colander for a washbasin. We have yet to hear a better definition—Buffalo Times. What with beef soaring upward and potatoes and apples already there, we shall soon have to be content with such cheap things as turkey, pig, deer, and strawberries—St. Paul Globe. Experience has effected a great change in Senator Platt. When he is thrown down now by a President, he usually brushes the dust off his clothes and claims he slipped—Detroit Free Press. Out in California they have imported from China a beetle which eats the Jose scale, the pest of fruit growers. But now they are trying to find something which will eat the beetle—San Jose News. If it wasn't for Theodore Roosevelt some of the magazines might be rarely put to it for interesting matter. They are making a copy for him in a surprising continuous way—Cleveland Plain Dealer. Harper's Weekly refers to the Tam many leader as the late Mr. Croker, an Irishman by birth, an Englishman by choice, and a New Yorker by profession, whose favorite color is the "long green"—Buffalo Times. The sad lesson of the trouble in Holland is that "real royal queens" like ordinary feminine mortals, are likely to make a mess of it when they try to reform rakes by marrying them—New York Evening Sun. If Sampson is entitled to prize money, it seems as though the law should be amended so as to allow a share to the Secretary of the Navy and the President. They had as much to do with smashing Cervera's fleet as Sampson did—Toledo Journal. Senator Hoar has flashes of genius yet. He advises the nation to all deposit their anarchists to one island where they could establish their ideal community without any law. After a time the survivors could be brought away to some insane asylum—Buffalo News. Prince Henry may be a brute of a drunken German, and he may not. MODERN ADVERTISING

is "Georgia," who now resides in the Bay state.
The oldest doll as far as known, in any part of this country, is "Georgia," the property of Mrs. Alice L. Lincoln, of Chelsea, Mass. "Georgia," being over 100 years old, can well boast of having "lived" in three centuries.
Four generations of children have petted and beaten her, but she has although her smiling countenance bears many a mark of age, wrinkles and scars of time, and her hoary brown head, with an occasional grey dent, would seem to indicate that the skull might easily stand a little tramping, nevertheless, this children's idol of by-gone days is in a remarkable state of preservation. "Georgia" was originally a "southern lassie" and was raised in Milledgeville, Ga., "before wah." She was given to Mrs. Lincoln's mother in exchange for a ring, by Miss Weekes, an old schoolmate.
The latter's mother had previously paraded the doll in the doll carriage of her times, and perhaps, if "Georgia" could only use the artificial tongue with which she is provided her previous family history might prove her rightful eligibility to the Society of Colonial Dames.

To Get Rid of a Troublesome corn.

First soak it in warm water to soften it then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application.
A corn plaster should be worn for a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled.
For sale by W. T. Hill Antioch and Gray-lake Pharmacy.

Prevents Destroy Germs.

According to the Lancet the liberal use of the handkerchief is calculated to disseminate and spread germs, owing to the fact that the handkerchief is Populism in Norway.

The paternal government of Norway has a fund of money amounting to about $500,000, which is loaned to farmers through the municipal officers to assist them in buying land. Such a proposition was advanced by the populists of Kansas some years ago and did not meet with any favor, but generally with ridicule. In Norway, however, it is actually in practice and small sums are loaned to industrious people at 3 per cent interest for a term of twenty-five years to enable them to acquire farms and improve not only themselves but the state.

Gulls in London Parks.

As the winter advances the gulls come up the Thames in great numbers in search of food. They have already invaded the parks, much to the cost of the ducks, who find to their confession that these hungry intruders rob them unmercifully. In St. James' Park there are hundreds of these waits. From the bridge which crosses the lake they may be seen floating on the water or circling overhead, uttering plaintive screams as they dart about in search of food. - Pall Mall Gazette.

Saved His Life.

"I wish to say that I feel I owe my life to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure," writes H. O.
Christenson of Hayfield, Minn. "For three years I was troubled with dyspepsia so I could hold nothing on my stomach.
Many times I would be unable to retain a morsel of food. Finally I was confined to my bed. Doctor said I could not live.
I read one of your advertisements for Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and thought I'd try it and commenced its use. I began to improve from the first bottle. Now I am cured and recommend it to all. Digests your food.
Cures all stomach troubles." W. T. Hill.

Sixty Degrees Below Zero.

Sixty degrees below zero is the frigidly cold atmosphere in which Alaskan gold hunters must often work.
They make fireplaces of snow in that desolate region. The snow is pressed into blocks like bricks and a fireplace two or three feet square is built with them. When the fire is lighted the snow, of course, melts on the surface; but when the fire is out this freezes so hard that the next fire causes it to become only camp. A snow fireplace used only for cooking purposes will last for an entire winter.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation," were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice.
Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her.
It's a wonderful stomach, liver and kidney remedy. Cures dyspepsia, loss of appetite.
Try it. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed. For sale by W. T. Hill.

Technical Schools in Germany.

There are schools in Germany for farmers, gardeners, florists, fruit growers, foresters, blacksmiths, carpenters, masons, cabinet makers, bookkeepers, tailors, shoemakers, druggists, and there are cooking schools, institutes for training servant girls, barbers and chiropractists. One can find a school in Germany for teaching anything one wants to know, and it is usually supported by the government free to all citizens, or perhaps only a nominal fee is charged.

"I suffered from corns I could burns, boils, ulcers, and skin diseases and piles. Guaranteed

Girls That "Pain"

The English anthropologist, Francis Galton, tells of a conveyance which he had lately with the purpose of a college for women. Mrs. Galton told this lady about the advertised of the girls who graduated from the college. She answered that one-third of them derived their health from their education. The third portion very little. The third remaining third were of a quite fallible constitution. Mrs. Galton asked of these hallucinations. "Oh, they're the ones who mar-

An Extraordinary Story.

It suffered for years with a bronchial or lung trouble, and tried various remedies but did not obtain permanent relief until I commenced using the Minute Cough Cure," writes Rev. James Kirkman, ex-
-minister of Belle River, Ill. "I have no hesitation in recommending it to all sufferers from maladies of this kind." One Minute Cough Cure affords immediate relief for coughs, colds and all kinds of throat and lung troubles. For croup it is unequalled.
Absolutely safe, very pleasant to take, never fails and is really a favorite with the children. They like it. W. T. Hill.

Once Set in That Chain.

Queen Anne was once surrounded by a host of gayly dressed courtiers, and in the throng was an old man of 89, wearing the plain dress of a country farmer. "Have you ever seen such a sight before?" asked a looker-on, and the throng was startled to hear the old man say, "Never since I sat in her chair." It was Cromwell's son Richard, who went into retirement on the restoration of King Charles II.

Health and Beauty.

A poor complexion is usually the result of a torpid liver or irregular action of the bowels. Unless nature's refuse is carried off it will surely cause impure blood. Pimples, boils and other eruptions follow.
This is nature's method of throwing off the poisons which the bowels fail to remove.
DeWitt's Little Early Risers are world famous for remedying this condition.
They stimulate the liver and promote regular and healthy action of the bowels but never cause griping, cramps or distress.
Safe pills. W. T. Hill.

shipping California redwood to and South America and the Orient. It is soft and easy to work, many trees are sixteen feet in diameter and 200 feet high. Redwood resists decay and fire and is one of the most enduring woods. All the Pacific coast railroads use redwood ties and large quantities have been shipped to Mexico, South America and India.

Prescribed by Her Physician.

Noah's Falls, Kas., Nov. 18, 1900.
Papain Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill.
Dear Sir:—About fifteen years I suffered from indigestion and last winter thought I would die, when my physician, Dr. A. J. Lawrence of this place, advised my trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Papain, which I did, and two bottles cured me. It not only relieved me, but it cured me so I have not been troubled since.

"If any one ever offered me $500 for the good Syrup Papain I have done me, I would not think of taking it. No one can take your medicine without being convinced of its more than wonderful cures. I recommend it to all my friends as a laxative and stomach remedy.
Yours with gratitude, Mrs. J. Morgan.

Voltaire as a Play Writer.

A French journal recalls the story of Voltaire, who, under a fictitious name, offered to the Comedie Francaise a play entitled "Le Droit du Seigneur." It was promptly rejected as badly written and poor in rhyme, but when he offered the same manuscript a second time under the title "L'Ecuell du Sage" and signed with his own name it was accepted with enthusiasm and universally declared admirable.

Noblemen Who French.

An English paper mentions the names of some ten noblemen who are frequent preachers. Of these five are ordained priests of the Established church, and one is a bishop who is a "lord" in his own right. Among these peers who are preachers is included Lord Kinnaird, an acknowledged authority on football, but not less resolute and zealous as a lay preacher.

Smoking a Marching Tonic.

Experiments have been made in the Swiss army on the effect of smoking of the march. The results were in favor of the troops that were allowed to buy their pipes, and, moreover, their discipline was better.
